LETTER FROM KENTUCKY.

The Democratic Party the only Hope for the Country.

GEIGERSVILLE, Ky., June 15th, 1876.

DEAR SENTINEL:

The heroscope seems to predict that unless there is not a change that ere long we will be engulfed in the chaos of destruction. The spirit of progress is manifestly at a standstill and the old ship of State is rapidly drifting toward the abyss. While we have incompetent and dishonest men at the helm, the only question will be how long could she continue to stem the turbulent tide. The Democratic party seems to remain apathetic and indifferent, this apathy must be shaken off and this indifference must be got rid of, there are a few who are striving to save the ship that has thus far rode to wars for one hundred years.

Now to lay all metaphor aside there are a few facts which I want to lay before the readers of the SENTINEL: The Democratic party must rally to save the country: this is no time to have quarrelling in our ranks about side issues. We must not either like Micawber, "wait for something to turn up," our national resources are almost exhausted and the remainder is fast being consumed by the bummers of the party now in power. No thought for the good of the country is ever looked to, they keep their private interest uppermost and thereby jeopardize the perpetuation of our government.

A Presidential campaign is now rapidly approaching and what do we behold?—The same men who have disgraced the in the past, that have plundered the treasury and robbed the people wherever an opportunity presented itself; laying their claims before the people, and bringing up the same old platform, preparing the same old traps and baits that have victimized the people in the past and with which they hope to catch the gudgeons again, and retain their power. What would be the condition of our country, should it be subjected to another term of financial bloodshed? It is perfectly horrible to think of the result that must inevitably follow the triumph of the Radical party; a resume of the increase of the running expenses, will show conclusively that this is an appalling fact.

From 1860 to 1870 a decade of ten years our expenses have increased from one hundred and fifty-four million dollars to seven hundred and thirty and a half millions, and since that time the expenses have been increasing more rapidly than at any other period and the worst feature of the whole is we are fast drifting into bankruptcy and ruin, owing to the fact we are increasing our indebtedness to foreign nations.

The Radical party are striving to divert the attention of the Democracy from the main issues and contriving plans by the means of which to stir up dissension in our midst. Every good Democrat should guard against this and work with unwonted vigilance to rally this party in the cause of truth and justice. If the true friends of reform rally for a common cause they can force reform upon the Radical party. But if they remain the patient beasts of burthen they have been hitherto they will find in the future as in the past that they are only esteemed the voting cattle on whom the burthen of society may be placed and serve as a tail to the Radical party.

Let every man feel it his duty to vote to save our country from its impoverished state.

Let all good men lay all prejudice aside and consider this grave subject and be one of the number who strive to save this country in November from its present financial political and social ruin.

The largest feet known to history must be those of the Maryland editor, who writes: "We black our boots with 15,000,000 boxes of domestic blacking a year."

A little boy, whose conduct made his mother say that she feared he did not pray, replied: "Yes, I do; I pray every night that God will make you and me like any ways better."

IN MEMORIAM.

VIRGINIA.—At a County Court held for Scott county, beginning on Tuesday the 13th day of June, 1876.

On motion of Maj. H. W. Holdway, a committee consisting of Capt J. H. Wood, Gen. A. L. Pridemore, Maj. J. P. McElhaney, Col. L. H. N. Salyer and H. W. Holdway, were appointed by the court to draft suitable resolutions touching the death of Henry S. Kane, late member of the Bar of this court.

The said committee afterwards appeared in court and presented the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas we have heard with sadness of the death of Henry S. Kane of Estillville Va., which occurred on the 13th day of June 1876, and who was the oldest surviving member of the Bar of Scott county, and has had a long and eventful life filling offices of honor and trust with earnestness, fidelity and efficiency, exercising his influences in behalf of morality and good citizenship, and always exercising an elevating influence on the profession of which he was a bright luminary; Therefore Resolved, that we tender to the wife and family of the deceased our deepest sympathies in the sad time of their bereavement.

Resolved, that the members of this Bar wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, that the members of the Bar attend the funeral of the deceased.

Resolved, that this Bar has lost one of its most earnest, sagacious, energetic and successful members, and that his place cannot well be filled.

Resolved, that the Judge of this Court be requested to spread a copy of these resolutions upon the records of the court that a copy thereof be presented by the Clerk of this court, to the family of the deceased, and that they be published in the Scott Banner, Lee Sentinel, Russell Progress, Bristol News and Abingdon Virginian.

Resolved, that this court do now adjourn.

V Snake Tale.

Mrs. Sewell, of this county, was in her garden the other morning picking peas for dinner, when two large rattlesnakes came out from a hedge of raspberries. They at once began striking at each other all the time hissing and rattling like mad. They appeared to be very expert in dodging, but the largest one finally sized the smaller one by the tail and with one gulp swallowed him bodily. Then the smaller one sized the larger one by the head, and swelling his head like an adder, drew his adversary wrong side outside like skinning a squirrel, and safely swallowed him—both of the snakes disappearing—having mutually swallowed each other.—Georgia Home Journal.

An Indignant Elephant.

The elephant in Montgomery Queen's circus, San Francisco, discovered a pocket in the back of a girl's dress, as she was leaning against the rope and looking the other way. He reached in with his trunk and brought out an apple which he ate. Another trial yielded a package of gum drops, and a third some peanuts. Again he essayed, and got hold of a bottle of ammonia, the contents of which went the way of the apple, the candy, and the peanuts. Instantly the resentful elephant obliterated the girl's bustle, filling the air with bits of cloth, newspaper and whalebone. They covered her with a shawl and took her home.

"I wish I might die," sighed a middle-aged maiden, as she hung like a lamp-bolster out of the third-story front window on a Sunday afternoon and espied a man whom she had once coquettishly rejected placidly propelling an $18 baby cart. Shocked and astonished, she said: "You had said wicked thing, why don't you take off your hat in church?" And the wicked boy (overcome with grief) replied: "If you please, sir, I'm a little girl."

Some Results that will Follow Silver Resumption.

Pockets will be lined with leather.

Women will carry bead purses as long as your arm.

The best of teeth will be worn to the gums testing coins.

It will be easy to take a count of feet, but confounded discouraging for a member of the Y. M. C. A. to pass it off as an.

When you give a tramp a dime he will look offended, no! he has more than rung it on the pavement and found it to be good.

Holes in pockets will be as thick as salt.

June bugs and wives will tire of married life sewing them up.

People will pick up every shining thing they see, under the fond impression that it is a quartet.

When a man walks much the inside of his legs will be chafed raw.

When less than a dollar is to go by mail, it will have to be converted first into postage stamps.

To guard their shining treasures, men will wear their hands in their pockets more than ever.

When you run for a street car, money will fly out of your pockets at every jump.

When you tell your wife that you have no money she will say you lie, for she will have heard it jingle in her pocket.

It will be difficult to pay a man a quarter by mistake for a half.

Elderly people will again hoard their savings in cracked teapots and old stockings.

When you are in a hurry, the storekeeper will have to weigh the coin in his hand, and sound it twenty-five times on the counter before he can determine whether it is good.

The baby will swallow a dime a day.

A boy with a quarter will lose it in a crack in two minutes, from which no amount of coaxing with forks and chips can recover it.

Sleepy men will put buttons and buttons into contribution boxes as of yore.

The interesting game of tossing heads or tails for drinks will become as popular as before the war.

The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer bodily starts this on the rounds: A gentleman in the city says when he was moving from Barbour county, Alabama, to Jackson county, Texas, he carried with him an ox, which he worked during the fall and winter. In the spring he turned the ox out to graze and he strayed off. On his return to Barbour on a visit he found that the ox had gone to his former home, a distance of between 800 and 1,000 miles. He also had a "sandy" soy that returned to her former rooting grounds after having been carried in a box a distance of 300 miles.

At this season the question which interests a boy is not so much whether his life will be crowned with glory and honor as whether his new Summer's vest is going to be made out of his father's old trousers.

"Have you seen my black-faced antelope?" inquired Mr. Leoscope, who had a collection of animals, of his friend Bottlejack. "No, I haven't. Whom did your black-faced antelope elope with?"

When a California woman defeated a lion in a hand-to-hand combat, the neighbors were greatly astonished, but her husband quietly remarked: "Oh, that's nothing; that woman could lick the devil."

Any excuse better than none. A toper says he would be a temperance man in a minute if it wasn't for his wife. He knows she'd be lonesome if she hadn't something to jaw about and find fault with.

There is a growing feeling among the American people that the man who can hear a fellow mortal complain of a cold in the head, and abstain from telling him what to do for it, is the man who should be the next President.

LEE COUNTY SENTINEL.

Jonesville, Va., Friday, June 23, 1876.

CHARLES WILLOUGHBY,
Editor and Proprietor.

FOR CONGRESS.
GEN. A. L. PRIDEMORE,
OF LEE.

NEXT week we will wait impatiently to hear from St. Louis. But we have got it in type, and will only wait to hear the result to put it at the head of our columns—"TILDEN AND HENDRICKS."

Speaker Kerr has been vindicated against the charges made by Harney, which were by a unanimous vote of the House, declared false. Thus have both parties put the seal of their condemnation on this foul effort to destroy him.

THE gambling-house Gospel dispenser of the Messenger, emits another still-born instalment of his filth at Gen. Pridemore; but, like its author, it is so weak and nasty that decent people will not be influenced by it.

Hayes and Wheeler the Ticket.

In the Convention at Cincinnati, Friday, the voting proceeded with varying fortunes to the candidates to the seventh ballot, when Rutherford B. Hayes, of Ohio; James G. Blaine, of Maine, and H. B. Bristow, of Kentucky, were the only remaining candidates in the field. The seventh ballot resulted: For Hayes, 584; for Blaine, 351; for Bristow, 21. Hayes was declared the nominee.

Wm. A. Wheeler, of New York, was then chosen as the candidate for Vice-President.

The usual resolutions of thanks were passed, after which the Convention adjourned sine die.

Hayes is a lawyer by profession, was an officer in the United States army in the late war, also member of Congress, and is now Governor of Ohio.

Wheeler is a member of Congress from New York, of respectable standing and talent.

We look upon that ticket as the strongest and most formidable that could have been nominated by that party—the most dangerous—and one that will require the intire strength of the Democratic party to beat it.

Hayes was the compromise, and came to the Convention with the endorsement of his State, in having beaten Allen in the gubernatorial race last fall, a fact that is bound to give him some strength in his own, as well as his neighboring States.

Mr. Wheeler is known as a gentleman of intellect and character, and has served in five sessions of Congress, from the State of New York. The most prominent of his political acts was that known as the Louisiana compromise, and from what we know of Mr. Wheeler's Congressional record, we wonder at his being able to find a willingness in his mind to accept a second place on the ticket. The fact of this nefarious, fraudulent, tricking crew, picking up such a man, can only be accounted for upon the ground that by so doing, they entertain the faint hope of picking up the Liberal Republican vote, and carrying the State of New York.

The Nomination is now made, and it is known who we have to fight, and our best policy is to bring out our best man and fight manfully, and victory is ours.

THERE are already two candidates in the field for Congress in this district. Fayette McMullin, of course, is before the people again, and General A. L. Pridemore, of Lee county, announces himself a candidate in the Lee SENTINEL, of last week. We take no stock in Fayette, but if General Pridemore receives the nomination, we will cheerfully support him. But, we have an idea that Gen. Wm. Terry, our present efficient representative, will be returned. He ought to be, for he has proven himself a faithful and honest representative, and with his experience, can do more for us than any other man that can be selected. We are for returning Gen. Terry, and for keeping him there as long as he will do as well as he has done.—Salem Register.

THE nomination at Cincinnati last Friday makes Republicanism look lazy, and we take it as a good omen.

THE Scott Banner is somewhat in the sewing machine business. Its readers have a fine variety—seven—to select from.

It was a cruel snub to President Grant that the Cincinnati Convention gave, in refusing to admit his dearest friend Boss Shepherd, to a seat—and that, too, after the Boss had adroitly secured the election of one of the most distinguished colored gentlemen in the country as an associate, in order to give an appearance of respectability to the delegation.

ZEB VANCE.

The nomination of this gallant and popular Conservative for Governor of the "Old North State" is an omen of good, and secures that noble State to the Democratic column next November beyond the peradventure of a doubt. Well done, brave old North Carolina. Yours is a sound Centennial position, indeed.

Death of Gen. Bagwell.

Our readers will share with us in the regret we feel but cannot express at the sudden and untimely death of this distinguished and popular gentleman, who has so long and so faithfully represented the people of Accomac county and the interests of the Eastern shore in the General Assembly. His last appearance in public life was as temporary chairman of the Conservative Convention which assembled in the Theater on the 31st of May, upon which occasion he made a stirring and eloquent speech, which was applauded by all he heard it for its excellent temper and the broad and liberal views expressed. Gen. Bagwell was as well known in Richmond as if this had been his home, and he was immensely popular with our people, to whom this unexpected intelligence of his death will be sad news indeed.—Whig.

[COMMUNICATED.]

SOME men have a talent for one thing: some have no talent at all. Some can split rails, drive a wagon or draw a comparison. The editor of the SENTINEL, has shown by the beautiful comparison he made in his last issue that he belongs to the latter class. It is said that the best comparisons are drawn from nature or that they are suggested by the natural state of the person making them.—Hunger being the usual state of an editor, what is more natural than for him to compare a church steeple to a dining room stool or any other piece of furniture in a dining room. I am not surprised at it nor would I have been surprised if he had compared it to a loaf of bread or a leg of mutton.

I tell you, friend Willoughby, hunger is suggestive. It sets your imagination going and suggests to you something to eat, and then follows as a consequence a thought of a place to sit while you eat it, but what induced you to think of the dish pan turned over the stool is a mystery to me unless you thought that stool was reserved for the hungry editor of the SENTINEL. Don't make such comparisons any more they are too suggestive of your natural state.

ONE OF THE BUILDING COMMITTEE.

[And, for all that, the steeple on the new Hall looks just like a dining-room stool, with an inverted dish-pan on it, and it doesn't require a hungry editor to discern the resemblance.—ED. SEN.]

At the residence of the brides father, on Thursday June 15th by the Rev S. B. Campbell, Mr. W. WHITE BALES, to Miss MOLLIE L. BALES, daughter of Col. Wm. P. Bales, of Rose Hill.

No cards.

On Sunday the 18th, by the Rev. W. H. Cooper, at the residence of John McDowell Esq., Mr. ALVEY GREGORY to Miss ELLEN HOUNSHALL daughter of Mr. Peter Hounshall—all of Lee county.

GRANGE NOTICE.—The Masters of all the subordinate Granges in the county are hereby earnestly requested to be present at a meeting in the courthouse, Jonesville, on Monday, the 3rd day of July, to make preparations for the organization of the Pomona Grange, by the Master of the State Grange on the 29th of July.

THE NEW "DOMESTIC" Double-Thread Lock-Stitch Machine.

It sews with great facility the lightest and finest as well as the heaviest and coarsest fabrics.

THE LIGHTEST-RUNNING MACHINE IN THE WORLD.

With our printed directions, no instruction or mechanical skill is required to operate it. The construction of the machine is based upon a principle of unique and unequalled simplicity, comprising simple levers working upon centres. The bearings are few, and they are hardened and polished. The machines are made at our new works in the city of Newark, N. J., with new special (patented) machinery and tools, constructed expressly to accomplish what we now offer. Every machine fully warranted.

A light shower of hail fell yesterday.

The weather is remarkably cool for the month of June.

The wheat in this section is infected to some extent by "spot."

JONESVILLE SUNDAY SCHOOL will have a picnic to-morrow, may the little folks have a good time!

The reaper reapeth, and the mower moweth, and a bumblebee getteth up the leg of the honest Granger's trousers and bummet.

Our good friend Mike Harris, of Knoxville, has our thanks for the Whig and Chronicle "Extra" giving us the first news of the result of the Cincinnati Convention.

FRATERNAL.—In consequence of to-morrow being the regular meeting day of the Odd Fellows Lodge, the Masonic Lodge has postponed the installation of officers till 7 o'clock p. m. Let the members take notice and attend.

Mr. ELY's Grammar school opened Monday with a fair attendance. Let the boys who have no better employment than loafing around the stores and playing drafts, go to this school and improve their time more profitably.

An exchange says: "New York ladies wear nothing but the gypsy hats." And unless the brim of the hat is at least four feet deep, and turns down all around, we should think a modest man would want to leave that city.

The man who painted Patience as a healthy looking female perched on a chunk of sandstone, never saw an editor chewing the end of a pencil, while the compositors stood in the background yelling for copy.

In Philadelphia they have handkerchiefs with the declaration of Independence printed on them in French, German, and English, so that one can now blow his nose in three languages in the Quaker City.

A pair of pantaloons containing $141 were blown away by the Fremont (La.) hurricane. We suspect the wearer clung to a sapling; but his suspender buttons couldn't have been sewed on very strongly.

SULLINS' COLLEGE.—The catalogue for 1875-6 of this rising institution has been received. It is gratifying to know that we have such a valuable school for young ladies so convenient, and we are pleased to see that it is receiving a liberal share of the patronage it so richly deserves. Slack does the printing.

An old Baptist minister enforced the necessity of differences of opinion by argument: "Now, if everybody had been of my opinion, they would have wanted my old woman." One of the deacons, who sat just behind him, responded: "Yes, and if everybody was of my opinion, nobody would have her."

Franklin's statue in Printing House Square, New York, is one of the most demure-looking objects in the world; yet for all that it was recently caught casting admiring glances at a pretty girl—for which it wasn't really so very much to blame, as she not only had a most charming face, but was most tastily and bewitchingly arrayed in becoming garments, made after the celebrated "Domestic Paper Fashions."

We are requested to announce that Dr. Blanton, Master of the State Grange, will address the people of Lee, and organize a County Grange in Jonesville, on the 29th of July next.

SURGICAL.—Our genial friend Dr. Geo. Clark, was operated upon Tuesday last by Dr. G. K. Turner, for an affection of the eyes that was about to blind him. Dr. T. removed a pterygium from each one of his eyes, and at the present writing, we are happy to state that he is getting well.

MISS MOLLIE BALES, one of Lee county's sweetest girls, was made the happy bride of our highly esteemed friend White Bales, last Thursday, in the presence of a small circle of her friends. We present the joyous couple our congratulations, and wish them a peaceful journey up the hill of life.

REWARD OFFERED.—In another column will be found Jailer Ely's advertisement, in which he offers a reward of $50 for the capture and return to him of Anderson and Jonathan Wells. Let the people use their best efforts to secure their art rest.

LOOK OUT FOR IT.—Of all the many ills which afflict mankind, there is none perhaps which leave so many mourners and is so destructive to human life, as the yearly recurring bowel complaints. It is the opinion of many, that these disorders will be exceptionally prevalent this year, and already we hear of numerous cases of cholera morbus, cholera infantum, &amp;c. It becomes every one to be watchful, and to guard against the approach of this enemy, by having at hand Dr. Lytle's Elixir, which is the best known remedy for these diseases.

A VICIOUS SNAKE.—One day last week while Mr. Eb. Low was plowing corn for Mr. C. L. Hamblen, he felt something strike him on the hip, and upon turning around, he discovered a large black snake attempting to coil itself around his arm. He instantly dropped the plow, and ran for a stick, to kill the snake; the snake followed him so closely that he was compelled to defend himself with his feet, and the snake made a spring, and fell upon his breast, coiling its tail around his wrist, and seemed determined to get its head into his face, and it was with difficulty that Mr. Low managed to get hold of its throat, and extricate himself from its folds, which was only accomplished by tearing the reptile in pieces.

The story sounds like a hard one, but it is vouched for by gentlemen of veracity who were eye witness to the frightful scene.

IMPALEMENT.—We learn that Mr. Douglas Woodward, who resides in the lower part of the Crab Orchard, in this county, met with a terrible accident recently. He had cut off a sassafras tree about the size of the wrist, and afterwards got up into a servus tree that overhung the stump, and by some accident, he fell a distance of eight feet, alighting upon the sassafras stub, which entered and tore through his bowels, passing upwards, injured the bladder and the kidneys. A fortunate lateral motion prevented greater impalement. His brother was present quickly removed him. Twenty-four hours later Dr. Geo. Clark saw him and concluded from the terrible hemorrhage and the extent of the injury that he would not recover, but we are glad to state that, now, fifteen days after the reception of the injury, it is thought he will get well.

DR. LA' VICTOR ORION, "the Wandering Christian and great moral Reformer, from the Land of Flowers," gave one of his "intellectual feasts" at the Court-house in this place, last Friday night. The Doctor was an odd specimen of the genus homo; while the top of his head was as bald as a paper collar box, the back and sides of that singular shaped knot was covered with a shaggy mass of curls about 14 inches in length. He has been a man of more than ordinary intellect, and is possessed of a most wonderful memory, but shows marked evidence of insanity, and was perfectly conversant with history, modern and ancient, and the poets. His lecture upon "temperance, liberty, religion, matrimony and married life made happy," and a good many other subjects, contained many sensible thoughts but it was delivered in such a broken and comic style, interspersed with violin music and dancing by the Doctor, that it became a perfect farce, and the boys became boisterous, and blew out the lights, leaving the crowd and the Dr. to disperse rather disorderly.

A New style of boys trousers is the latest invention. They have copper seats, sheet iron knees, riveted seams, tin pockets and rope suspenders. Charlie Farley, Sam Miles, Ben Couk, et al., are expected to appear in these breeches next week.

THE "DEVIL" FOUND HIS MATCH.—Mr. GEORGE A. HICKMAN, the attachee of this office, commonly known to the craft as the "Devil," has for some months exhibited symptoms of a most ardent love for Miss CALLIE NOELL, one of Jonesville's fair lasses; his love was returned and up to within a few weeks ago all went smoothly along, when suddenly the 'Squire, who is foreman of Miss Callie's establishment, got a glance at the proof, he undertook to pie the case, but as it was almost time for the forms to go to press, it was too late for any such revision, and it was concluded to leave out a consideration of the said foreman's rule, and to make it a Sunday Edition. So on last Sunday morning George slipped up on everybody, got a buggy, and like the SENTINEL, "circulated largely in the adjoining counties of Tennessee." Mr. Rob. Bishop having obtained the proper manuscripts from the clerk of Hancock county these two takes are bound in one volume by the time-honored custome of all good printers.

The new concern has our best wishes; may they increase in wealth and prosperity and may all the little Devils be first class printers like their pap.

ANOTHER INVASION UPON OUR JAIL.—At 1 o'clock Wednesday night, the 21st inst., three masked men gained an entrance through a window in the lower story of our county jail, and released therefrom one Jonathan Wells, of Wise county, charged with robbery. Jailer Ely and his family slept in the second story of the jail, and knew nothing of the presence of the invaders until they were at his bedside, with cocked revolvers pointed in his face. One of the men held a lighted candle in his hand, and seemed to be the spokesman for the crowd, and commanded Mr. Ely to be silent and to get up and open Jonathan Wells' cell, at the peril of his life. Being unarmed, and seeing that he was entirely in their power, Mr. Ely very submissively opened the cage and turned him out. As soon as he was at liberty, the party hastily ran down stairs and fled through the window through which they entered and rapidly retreated up the State road. Mr. Ely quickly gave the alarm, and pursued them some distance in his night clothes, fighting them with rocks; they fired several shots at him, none of them taking effect. Before the people could be aroused, and help obtained, they had made their escape.

This is the second time that our jail has been invaded by outlaws, and culprits taken from the hands of justice, and we think it is high time the authorities would have the lower part of the building more securely fortified against such marauders.

THE "Beatty" Piano and Beatty's "Golden Tongue" Parlor Organs, advertised in our columns, are highly recommended by eminent musicians and are, no doubt, superior instruments.
